ELOPING SCION OF WEALTHY MUST NOW WORK FOR LIVING

Seattle, Oct. 30.—Penfield Peabody, 17-year-old bridegroom, having surmounted one crisis in eloping with Miss Martha Stewart, daughter of a Bothell dairyman, is now facing another. He is broke and jobless. His father, Charles E. Peabody, although worth more than $1,000,000, is not likely to forgive him.

Meanwhile it will be up to Penfield to battle with the proverbial wolf single-handed. He is looking for a job, he says. For the first time since the runaway wedding Penfield and his bride stepped out into the open Friday, when they presumed they would be needed as witnesses for Wm. Flannery, charged with perjury because he is alleged to have sworn Peabody was 21 year of age. They have been hiding in a rented cottage on Lake Washington.

It is not improbable that Penfield may drive a milk wagon for his mother-in-law, who helped him in the elopement. Mrs. Peabody is certain they will make ends meet.

"We will get along all right," she said.

HOLD FUNERALS OF 17 VICTIMS OF THE PEABODY FIRE

Peabody, Mass., Oct. 30.—All Peabody today paid mournful tribute to its dead—the children burned or crushed to death in the fire and panic of Thursday at St. John's parochial school.

For 17 of the children were joint funerals in St. John's church, Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston, preaching the sermon.

Seventeen white coffins stood end to end before the chancel rail. Hundreds jammed the church, while others stood with uncovered heads in the yard outside, while the sobbing of bereaved mothers sounded above the intonations of the somber priests. Services lasted an hour, and then the tragic procession of white coffins in the waiting row of hearses at the curb began.

Past the ruins of the parochial school, past crepe-draped houses and closed stores, they took their way to the cemetery at the edge of the city. Other victims will have private services tomorrow and Monday.

ENGLAND SLOW IN COMING TO THE AID OF THE SERBIANS

(Copyright 1915 by the United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 30.—"Serbia asks favors from nobody. All she wants is fair play. She expects the allies to do their full duty by her. France has done so already, and doubtless England intends to do likewise, but she is too slow. Unless she hurries, aid will come too late."

Thus did Milenko Vestnich, former premier of Serbia and at present minister at Paris, sum up the Balkan situation for the United Press in an exclusive interview today.

I had just returned from Serbia and was familiar with the latest developments.

"I don't wish this to be interpreted," he continued, "as calling for help. It is not the Serbian people's nature to do this. Nor do I say this in a spirit of criticism. I am speaking plainly for the good of the allies generally."

"I have often seen in English newspapers the intimation that the western front is the only really important front of the war. There never was a greater mistake. The real kernel of the cause of the war was and is the near-eastern question. Thus England and all the allies are interested in what is transpiring there."

"Germany began to concern herself in the Orient 60 years ago. The war is the direct result of her determination to crush the Balkan countries, which, though small now, were growing stronger and threatening to become a stumbling block on the German road to the east."

"England is especially interested in this problem, so she ought to act more quickly. I have no doubt of England's loyalty, but direct action is necessary. It will be of no use sending troops in the Balkans after Germany's aims have been accomplished."

"Germany has invaded Belgium and parts of France and Russia, and is now attacking the near-east. If she wins in the latter quarter, she will dig herself in and fortify her lines as in Belgium, France and Russia. Then her game will be to sit back, considering her part done."

"The allies must not let Germany do this. The way to defeat her is not to consider the western line all-important, but to fight the Germans wherever they carry the fight."

SLAYER OF FIVE IN IDAHO IS HIMSELF NOW NEAR DEATH

Boise, Oct. 30.—The death of William Cameron, who shot and killed his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Adamson, his wife, his 18-months-old daughter, his brother-in-law, James Adamson, and then turned the gun on himself at Carey, Idaho, last night, was momentarily expected today.

Domestic trouble, which culminated in his wife suing him for divorce, was the cause of the tragedy.

Cameron first shot John Adamson, and then the other relatives as they fled. Adamson's daughter, Edith, and Cameron's three other children, succeeded in eluding the madman.

Each of Cameron's victims was shot in the head, dying instantly.

SEEK GERMAN OFFICERS WHO BROKE PAROLE

(By United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—The chase for Lieutenants Zeur Koch and Kruger Kroneck, the two German officers who escaped from the interned German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich at Norfolk, was continued by federal officers with vigor today. Detectives have accurate descriptions of the men. They declared the officers have been in San Francisco within the last 48 hours. It is understood the two men were harbored by friends at Mill Valley, but when they learned the federal authorities were on their trail came to San Francisco.
